SCHOOL NOTES.

[Submitted by Students.]

The school exhibit was well attended. We were very much pleased to see so many present and are planning for a much better exhibit next year.
We hope to have more meetings at the school next year in which parents and teachers will come into closer contact.

The high school pupils served cake and ice cream to their parents after the exhibit Thursday. The girls furnished the cakes which had been entered in the high school contest and the boys furnished the ice cream.

We were fortunate in having an ideal day for the field meet. The affair was a success in every respect.

The baseball team were overwhelmingly defeated by the Newcastle boys Friday, and as a result we lost the pennant which we have held for the past year. The boys are not conquered, however, and will be on hand to be reckoned with next year.
The score Friday was 12 to 0.

This is the last week of school,
"And I am glad of it," did you say?
Well, perhaps we all are, but hasn't it been a short and pleasant year?
Let's not drag this last week. There is lots of work that ought to be done.
Pienies are being planned for some day during the week by the various rooms. This is as much a feature of the school work as any other day of the year.

Plans are being made for the course of study next year in the twelfth grade, and a complete report will be given next week.

It seems that the official score of the field meet was carried away and will not be available for this week's issue, but will be printed next week.

The Boy Scouts will play the high school team a game of base ball Tuesday at 4 o'clock. No admission will be charged and every one is welcome. It is doubtful as to the result of the game as several of the regular team will be on the Scout team.

The teachers were royally entertained at dinner Monday at the Au-cock home.

Lutheran Church Notes

DAKOTA CITY-SALEM

Last Sunday was a glorious day in our Lutheran churches. At Salem, in some respects, it was a red letter day. We are all thankful for the auspicious weather. The especial feature of the worship was the baptism of five children, and the confirmation of twenty boys and girls.
It was certainly a great day with us and the spirit of the occasion was upon all. The house was full, we had to open the doors back into the ante-room and seat a lot of boys upon the rostrum so all might be accommodated. We have room for all and a place for all, and some for you when you come. Not always a cantata, or a confirmation, but there is always a message for you. We are careful to magnify the Lord Jesus, and that is the basis of all our special services. If it were not for the love of God in the church these other things could never be.
Christ lifted up is the power that draws, and that is what we do with all our might. We will be glad to welcome you. And when there is no more room without uncomfortable crowding, some of the men can tell you what can be done. And when that time comes it will be done. That is Salem's spirit.

It was a fine service when the parents of five children nicely filled the altar and gave their little ones unto God in baptism. A nobler thing and better cannot be done by the parents than just this. Baptism is more than just fulfilling Christ's command. God ordered a direct, positive grace, and there arises a new relation between the Father and the baptized. Just as there is a new relation between a child and a family after his adoption, so thru baptism there is this new relation to God thru adoption, for Paul says thus we become heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ.

Then when the boys and girls crowded the altar to be confirmed, and some of them to be baptized, there were truly glad hearts, both at Salem and Immanuel. It was an inspiration to be sure. It was an experience these young people will never forget. It was such a day as will create a desire in other young folks to come to the altar for a like purpose. It will enable others who have been there. Every body rejoiced, the whole church is glad, and Heaven was mindful of what was done.

But while we are rejoicing in this, there are other things. You have heard us say something about 100 people at our Sunday school at Salem and that we have said we would reach it. We were so busy last Sunday we did not take time for the secretary's report, but it leaked out to a few that there were 107 at Sunday school and this did not include the babies who were in their mother's arms. Yes, Sunday was a big day at Salem. And there is something in store for us in both churches.

On account of the small percentage of our people who could attend communion on Palm Sunday, and because of our large class received last Sunday, we will celebrate the Holy Communion next Sunday morning at Salem. We hope to have to open those partition doors, we have started it, and we never go backwards.
You will be at the church service, and you will be glad if you are at Sunday school. There is a place for you.

Next Sunday we are going to grade our Sunday school according to the state standard of efficiency.
We want your boys and girls to be there and take their place as well as yourself. It will be done very smoothly and without much ado. A well built engine makes little noise when it is under good headway.

Newly elected councils will be regularly installed next Sunday.

Immanuel's Missionary society will meet next Thursday with Mrs.
Sherman at 2:30 p. m., and the Aid society will meet Wednesday evening with Mrs. Hardin.

Salem Missionary-Aid enjoyed a pleasant afternoon at Mr. William Berger's.

Work is on for our Childrens' Day program.

Sioux City Journal, May 28, 1876:
The taxable valuation of Dakota county foots up $801,018, an increase

She was a prominent member of the Salem Y. P. S. C. E. and was highly respected. The Christian Endeavors at their meeting Sunday passed resolutions of respect and condolence, which were forwarded to her brother at Bridgeport.

Sioux City Journal, May 26, 1896: Joe Geisler, of Covington, who has been a partner with Capt. Dick Talbot in the old Iowa and Nebraska Pontoon Bridge company, has entered into a contract with the city of Yankton to extend a pontoon across the Missouri river at that point to replace the ferryboat, now being run by Capt. Marsh. The merchants of Yankton have been very anxious to have a bridge there in order to pull the retail trade from northern Dakota county, Neb. Mr. Geisler will put in the bridge immediately.
...A wealthy farmer of Dakota county, who was in the city yesterday, said a larger acreage of small grain, and especially wheat, had been sown this spring and more new land is being broken in that county than on any previous year. The greater portion of this land is owned by speculators, some of them eastern men, and the farms are being taken by new citizens. On Walker's island, which supplies Sioux City with early garden truck and melons, the acreage is double what it was last year. The numerous rains have caused a rank vegetation.
